

Another Poisoning!

By Cecil Lode

Patrice Zeller cheated death yesterday.

Zeller bought some aspirin at Byrnes Pharmacy located on Harlem and Chica Avenues in Marshall City. Her husband saved her life.

Martin Zeller was apparently near his wife when she took the aspirin. He saw her collapse, and promptly called 911.

Patrice Zeller is currently in the hospital under treatment. Doctors state she is currently stable and should have an easy recovery.

“It’s a miracle we were able to catch this in time. Another death would have been such a tragedy. I hope this will prompt some action to stop this insanity,” stated one doctor.

According to police officials, investigations have begun immediately and they hope it will bring them the answers they need.
