Parties: Jan Bridges (B)

June Johnston (J)

J: Hey Ice, what's happening?

B: Same old. Same old. We keep arresting the scum and some bleeding heart judge lets 'em out.

J: What can I say? That's how the game goes. But we get the guns and drugs off the street. That's a good thing, isn't it?

B: Yeah. But look at the cars they drive and the clothes they wear. We get the little fish but the big guys stay on top.

J: I heard a lot of them stay on top by becoming snitches. I heard that some of them have even given up cops.

B: Fire, let me tell you something. I hate snitches. They are rats and remember, rats caused the Black Plague.

J: Yeah, but aren't they a necessary evil.

B: Let me tell you. If someone ever tricked on me, I would not only kill them. I would kill their brothers, their sisters, their aunts, and their uncles. If they had a parakeet, I'd even kill their parakeet.

J: You mean like Lucky Stokes?

B: How about them Cubs. I gotta see a man about something. Later.

J: Take care.
